Learning Opportunity

Join Bev Smith for a day of learning and planning to blur the lines between reading and writing instruction. The ELAL curriculum can seem like we need teach everything in discrete units of time, but what if we found a way to integrate our instruction from time-to-time.

This day will be a blend of time to learn and time for you to plan to implement that learning. You will want to bring with you mentor texts that you might use as read alouds, shared reading, and writing mentor texts. These could be on a particular topic, integrating science and social studies, or ones that have a particular focus on literacy skill. You might also want to consider the text forms from the ELAL curriculum for your grade(s).

If there are teaching resources you have that you might like to use in your planning bring those as well. You will want access to technology too.
