Learning Opportunity

Leading today requires strategic communication that builds trust and reduces conflict. This session guides participants through reviewing their current communication systems to identify priority areas for improvement and long term sustainability.

Participants will explore what supports or blocks effective connection, shift from giving advice to leading through coaching, and apply practical strategies for managing conflict in positive, productive ways.

Presenters

Crystal Atkinson

Crystal Atkinson brings over 20 years of public education experience and a Master's in Educational Leadership to every session. As a certified Maxwell Leadership coach, trainer, and speaker, she's walked in your shoes—from classroom teacher to vice principal, division principal, and instructional coach.

For the past 10 years, Crystal has also facilitated professional learning across Alberta and the Northwest Territories through the Alberta Teachers' Association. Her passion centers on empowering leaders to create vibrant school communities where both students and staff thrive.

Registration Notes

The zoom link will be sent out in the registration email.

We recommend joining us live to get the most out of your learning, however, a recording will be available following the session.
